Employment Test

 WebQuest

Directions: Follow the steps below.

1. Log onto the web and go to Google or another search engine as directed by your instructor.
2. Using the search engine, use the key words "Employment Test" or "Sample Employment Test" or a similar combination
3. Before exploring sights returned in your search remember to surf smart:
  - a. Many of these tests are part of a service offered by companies who make money by selling these services. Do not give personal information (phone number, address, etc.) to these sites.
  - b. Many of the sites will allow you to access some basic information for free; this basic information is all you need for this activity.
  - c. Tests offered by universities and state job services may offer safer surfing.
  - d. If you ever question the information being asked for by the website, ask your instructor before giving out information.
4. Find two sites which offer sample employment tests. Write the name and address of the sites below.

Website Title	Website Address
2.

5. Complete the tests at each site.

- 6. As each site may organize the results differently, report the information given to you. This information may include a broad job category and other suggestions, or it may tell you about your personality type.

Site 1	Site 2

- 7. What part of the information did you think was accurate?

- 8. What part of the information did you think was inaccurate?

- 9. Were you surprised by the information? Why or why not?
